LE GUIDE
HACHETTE
DES VINS

“ L'olfaction est riche et élégante ; on y perçoit des arômes de fleurs blanches, de poire, d'abricot et de litchi. La bouche associe harmonieusement fruité généreux, densité et vivacité, et déploie une belle finale minérale et végétale. ”

About Guide Hachette des vins

From its first edition in 1985, the Guide Hachette des Vins displayed its approach and its ambitions on its back cover: “considerable resources, regional organization and the collaboration of recognized and impartial specialists”. The two fundamental principles which still prevail today are also stated: independence and objectivity. The wines are tasted blind, so that the selections and ratings are not influenced by considerations of reputation. The jurors only know the appellation and the vintage, which are essential points of reference for judging a wine. However, they do not know the producer or the vintage and do not see the label. The selected wines can have between 0 and 3 stars. Those who particularly like are tasted a second time by a “super jury”, and the best are marked as “favorites” by the reproduction of their label in the Guide.
